Nicole Romero was born on September 9th, 1984 in San Bernardino. As a child Nicole loved to dance and sing. This led her to perform at Sturges Theater in San Bernardino. She attended Roosevelt Elementary, Arrowview Middle school and San Bernardino High school. She also attended school in Los Angeles. Nicole loved to read and had a large collection of books. As Nicole grew, so did her taste in music. Nicole was a fan of all genres of music from rock, country, pop and hip-hop. Nicole was a big fan of sports. She was an Oakland Raiders, Los Angeles Lakers, WWE and an Anaheim Angels fan. In 2005 she had her first son, Tyler. In 2008 she had her second son, Ethan. She had her sons play baseball every year at KKC baseball field. She loved her boys and did everything she could for them. Nicole was a beautiful person inside and out. She marched to the beat of her own drum. She was an outgoing and charismatic person. She always knew how to make others laugh and smile. She could light up the room with her presence. Her sense of humor is what made her unique. She was a wonderful daughter to her parents. She was an annoying sister to her siblings and a loving mother to her kids. Nicole u will be missed. I met you in 2008 while I was bartending at Rays Downtown Deli....You were introduced to me by Jen Hernandez..Your smiie always lit up the room when I seen you .. When I was pregnant with my son in 2008 you told me not to be nervous as I was a first time mother and didnt know what to expect...your words really comforted me and I really did appreciate the few conversations we did have ...thank you... Even though we weren't close friends you always treated me so kind...I know your in a better place and in Jesus arms now. .Your sons are so handsome and I know they will grow up to be wonderful men because they had you as a mother. . much love boo,
