I first met Charles about 33-years ago. We became friends the moment we met. His passing is difficult for those of us left behind. I will also remember him, and know that he has the best ride on the other side. Much love and respect Charles and all of the Brothers and Family.

Dad, there's not a day that goes by that I don't think of you. I miss you and love you more with each day that passes. Even though I can't hug you or go on any more adventures with you, I know you are there by my side and in my heart wherever I go.
